ATR VERDICT: After getting up late in the day to score over 7f at Carlisle earlier this month, GREEK GIFT can continue her upwards trajectory. Karl Burke's charge has been raised 4lb for that neck success, which appears to be fair, and Brandon Wilkie's 5lb claim further enhances her credentials. Beauhaather appears to be the main danger on his handicap bow and he is likely to be seen to better effect in this company, while similar comments apply to Law Degree.

ATR VERDICT: BANK ON KENT (second) was collared in the shadows of the post by Griselda (first) when the pair met over 6f at Pontefract last Tuesday and, with the former 6lb better off at the weights this time around, he gets the vote to reverse that form here. Better can be expected from Majestic Heights upped in trip on his nursery debut and shouldn't be underestimated.

ATR VERDICT: REGENCY BOY was only narrowly beaten over C&D last time and he is fancied to confirm the form with Three Platoon (third) by going one better. The four-year-old has gone up 2lb for that effort which doesn't appear to be insurmountable. Last-time-out winner Bakersboy should also be thereabouts after scoring over the extended 1m1f at Wolverhampton last month, but this 3lb rise may be difficult to defy, while Bay Dream Believer is another to note.

ATR VERDICT: Majeski Man shaped well when bouncing back to form to finish second over 5f at Leicester last month and must be respected. That said, preference is for LE BEAU GARCON. The five-year-old displayed a game attitude to score over 5f at Thirsk latest, and the suspicion is that a 3lb rise may not be enough to anchor him if he arrives here in a similar mood. Skallywag Bay and Huddle Up are others to note in a competitive affair.

ATR VERDICT: Ticktyboo went close over 5f at Newcastle last time and he is likely to offer another bold bid. However, preference is for CARIBBEAN WIND. Jack Channon's charge has finished second on each of her two racecourse starts to date and this looks a good opportunity to shed her maiden tag. Last Outlaw was only beaten just more than a length when fifth on his first taste of racecourse action over 6f at Doncaster and is capable of a decent showing.

ATR VERDICT: COLTOR had a spin over hurdles last month for new trainer David Pipe and that should have blown any cobwebs away. He finished finished third in this contest last year and is expected to go close off a 3lb lower mark on his second start after wind surgery. Weddell Sea was no match for the winner when second over a marathon 2m2f at Pontefract, but had both Yorkkindness and Animato well behind on that occasion, while Believitanducan was narrowly beaten in a lower grade at Thirsk and is upped in trip with a shout.

ATR VERDICT: After being beaten just three quarters of a length into third over 6f at Salisbury on Saturday, DESTINY'S SPIRIT looks to have a live chance. Dominic Ffrench Davis' charge has the advantage of her rider's 7lb claim, which wasn't able to be utilised at the weekend, so she makes plenty of appeal on paper. Porfin arrives here in good form after consecutive runner-up finishes and is worthy of close consideration, while Juryman is on an exploitable mark should he return to form.

ATR VERDICT: BLUFFERONTHEBUS was beaten less than a length when third here earlier in the month and looks worth another chance in this lower grade. Ugo Gregory has won two of the last three renewals, but he's 5lb higher than last season's success and third-placed Park Street may well turn the tables, having run well back here last month. King Of Fury could improve with a tongue-tie applied for the first time, while Bella Bisbee is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: ETERNAL REIGN has shown promise on both starts over a mile at Naas and stepped forward from her debut when making the frame behind Red Viburnum last month with Shania just over a length behind in fourth. Riding arrangements suggest Shavasi is the pick of the Joseph O'Brien-trained trio and the daughter of Muhaarar didn't enjoy the clearest of passages before staying on into third behind Glen Princess at Gowran. Breathe Again is another to consider after coming home well in third behind the odds-on Flight Of Fancy at Limerick recently, while Flying Phoenix is another that has indicated ability in two outings.

ATR VERDICT: ATLANTIC GAMBLE has gone up 20lb over the course of his four consecutive victories and boasts strong credentials in a bid to continue his winning sequence. William Knight's charge will have to carry a further 6lb penalty after a comfortable three and a half lengths win over 1m at Kempton on Wednesday, but that is unlikely to stop him. The Dark Angel filly again was far from disgraced on her reappearance over a mile on testing ground at the Curragh in April and has since joined Paddy Twomey. Gotta Show Me was prominent throughout when just touched off on the all-weather at Newcastle last summer and is now in the care of Jessica Harrington after being purchased for 18,000 guineas at Newmarket in May. ATR VERDICT: There is very little to choose between Lady Doris and HASNA on running in the Ulster Oaks Handicap at Down Royal last month, with Solar Breeze (fifth) and Mo Ghille Mar (seventh) both behind. The former got up close home in a blanket finish, but the selection has every chance of reversing the places on these revised terms and should appreciate this extra furlong being by Sea The Moon and from the family of Harzand. Belhaven overcame some trouble in running to make a successful start for current connections at Sligo and now takes a drop in class after tackling Listed company last time. Star Kissed won three times last year at around this trip, while Ameerat Jumaira is another to consider.

Top Tip: HASNA (5)

Watch out for: LADY DORIS (8)

ATR VERDICT: SAMUI won a Naas bumper on debut last year and scored twice over hurdles including a valuable handicap at the Listowel Festival. The Gordon Elliott-trained gelding has switched to the Flat this year winning a 1m2f Down Royal maiden and should appreciate this stamina test. Taipan won twice last year including at this venue but has been absent for over a year since second in a Down Royal Listed race over this trip. Keithen Kennedy's 7lb claim is a big plus and it will be interesting to see how strong the topweight is in the market, a remark that also applies to Mr Adjudicator who has been very lightly raced since winning a 1m4f Premier Handicap at the Galway Festival five years ago.

Top Tip: SAMUI (4)

Watch out for: TAIPAN (1)
