ATR VERDICT: Ballinrobe bumper winner KALIX DELABARRIERE was too keen and made a bad mistake when starting off over hurdles in a 2m4f Leopardstown maiden. The Galiway gelding couldn't find any extra in the closing stages when runner-up to a subsequent winner on testing ground here last month and now takes a further drop in trip with a hood and tongue-tie applied for the first time. Walk On The Beach won a bumper on yielding ground in August after which connections reported that he had been jumping well at home. He is an interesting hurdling debutant but may not want the ground as testing as this. Hello Jack has been well held in both hurdle outings but has place claims again.

Top Tip: KALIX DELABARRIERE (6)
Watch out for: WALK ON THE BEACH (13)

ATR VERDICT: SEAHOUSES sprung a 33/1 surprise when making all of the running to score by over two lengths in this class at Market Rasen earlier in the month and he is only 4lb higher today. The five-year-old might only need a repeat of that effort in order to record the double. Sullivan Bay occupied the runner-up berth when last seen in this sphere at Plumpton in December and could get involved off a 3lb higher rating. Of the remainder, Lelant makes most appeal.

ATR VERDICT: The chase course can be tricky to negotiate here and with that in mind, LEADING SWOOP's familiarity with the layout can be a big asset if the first-time blinkers sharpen up his attack. Likely to be front rank, the Robert Walford-trained gelding could be well positioned to dominate. Having been cut some slack by the handicapper, Celtic Ned has scope to progress in this discipline and is noted along with Valirann Gold and Elpologreg.

ATR VERDICT: Heavy ground is a concern for FLEUR IN THE PARK but he looks the one to beat. 2m7f may have stretched his stamina at Limerick last time and the six-year-old should be suited by a return to the distance, over which he was narrowly beaten in a Grade 2 at Navan. He might be flattered by that bare formline having been given a fine tactical ride but, nonetheless, looks to have a few pounds to spare if handling conditions, which he did to reasonable effect in bumpers. Course winner Joystick, who was outclassed in a Grade 1 last time, will relish conditions and may leave that run behind, while Jacob's Ladder may improve further after landing a maiden over this trip.

Top Tip: FLEUR IN THE PARK (3)

ATR VERDICT: LAUGHING JOHN finished just under four lengths behind Star Of Guiting (second) when third on his hurdling debut at Newbury last month and he could improve past that more exposed rival. Le Soleil Reve failed to justify favouritism on his first start at Exeter in December (a race won by Star Of Guiting) but he might be worth another chance, while any market confidence behind newcomer Mad Maxios would be interesting.

Batwomen shaped with promise when third at Ludlow last time out and a bold bid off 1lb higher looks likely. This drop in trip should help Kruger Park and he completes the shortlist.

Long Handicap: Jeriko De Baune 9 - 13

ATR VERDICT: With the Gavin Cromwell yard continuing to fire in the winners, WILL THE WISE could prove the horse to beat on his handicap debut. Unbeaten in a point-to-point and bumper, the six-year-old has run with credit on three of his four starts over hurdles. Runner-up on his jumping debut at Punchestown in November, he was considered good enough to contest a Grade 2 hurdle at Navan on his next start. Although finding that a bridge too far at that stage of his career, he has looked much more like the finished article in two subsequent starts. Stablemate Bridie's Beau remains of interest despite a further hike in the weights, while Cato's Revenge is another worthy of consideration for trainer Philip Rothwell.

ATR VERDICT: LIGHTONTHEWING pulled clear with the eventual runner-up when gamely scoring over an extended 2m7f at Chepstow on his return to hurdles duty earlier this month, and the suspicion is that a 5lb rise may not be enough to anchor him. Bobalot shaped with promise when second over an extended 2m3f at Chepstow recently and he looks the main danger, ahead of Ami Bondhu.

ATR VERDICT: With plenty of chat about both the runner-up and third horse, the bumper SPINNINGAYARN won at Navan is likely to have been well above average. The Gordon Elliott-trained gelding showed real battling qualities to get back up close home to edge the verdict on that occasion and the five-year-old can book his Cheltenham ticket here by maintaining his unbeaten record. I'll Sort That benefited from a spin over hurdles before landing a Fairyhouse bumper on his second start. Although more is required now, the gelding is open to improvement. Strong Link will need to step up on previous efforts but has crucial race experience which should stand to him against more unexposed opposition in this contest.

ATR VERDICT: This looks a good opportunity for JO LESCIBAA to complete the hat-trick. The Venetia Williams-trained gelding shaped as though this extra yardage would suit when completing the double in good style over an extended 2m7f at Chepstow last month and, with scope for further progress, an 8lb hike for that victory may not be enough to halt him. Chasing newcomer Minniemum sits on a decent mark and returned to form with a good third over hurdles at Warwick last time. She could prove the main threat, ahead of Iron D'ex.

ATR VERDICT: CINQUENTA confirmed the promise that he displayed on debut when third again in a competitive event at Warwick in December. With further improvement likely, the five-year-old just tops the shortlist. Gaelic Pride is an Irish point-to-point winner who has to be noted on his Rules debut following his 50,000-pound purchase. General Briar and Crossgales King are others to consider in an open event.

ATR VERDICT: Bohemond Antioch is the only runner with previous experience but he doesn't set the bar very high and this could go to one of the interesting newcomers. Donttellyamumjack falls into that category as a half-brother to six winners and hailing from a respected yard, while it would be no surprise to see Pearl Smoke go well, but narrow preference is for HAY MACLEOD. A half-brother to 2m hurdle winner Hawk Stone, Alan King's gelding cost 60,000 pounds as a three-year-old and connections look to have found a good chance to recoup some of that outlay at the first attempt.

ATR VERDICT: BLOOD DESTINY should appreciate returning to the minimum trip having been outstayed at Thurles on his reappearance. The Willie Mullins-trained gelding boasts some very smart novice form from last season, including a win at this track. A win here could see him book his Cheltenham ticket, where he would hold live chances in one of the handicaps. The veteran Espanito Bello loves it here but faces a stiff task if he is to record another success at his favourite track. At the same time, the 11-year-old looks the biggest threat to the Mullins contender. Rebel Gold, another in the twilight years of a successful career, might be good enough to take minor honours.
