ATR VERDICT: An open contest in which a chance can be taken on MOLLIE FOSTER. Ed Walker's filly didn't show much on her seasonal return at Ascot, but she was an eye-catching fourth at Chester last time having been caught much further back than ideal. The daughter of Acclamation can compete off an unchanged mark and, with the potential of more to come, she could take another step forward. Dashing Dick ought to prove popular, while Another Abbot should not be overlooked.

Top Tip: MOLLIE FOSTER (7)

ATR VERDICT: Ashariba was highly progressive last season and she was far from disgraced on her return at Epsom earlier this month. Two from two on the all-weather, David Menuisier's filly is entitled to plenty of respect, but the vote goes to WADACRE GOMEZ. Charlie Johnston's charge is 11lb well in having chased home an unexposed rival at Chelmsford a week ago, and he ought to be more than capable of going one place better. Others to note include Penzance and Fantasy Believer.

ATR VERDICT: A determined winner at Beverley ahead of the reopposing Meelaf (second) last month, and runner-up to the subsequent Albany winner at Carlisle before that, ARGENTINE TANGO brings a strong level of form to the table and can strike. That may be at the main expense of taking National Stakes winner Anthelia, who is unbeaten. Amberia could not have done it any easier when scoring over 7f on debut at Leicester and she could be open to any amount of improvement.

ATR VERDICT: Trainer William Haggas landed this prize for the last two years and he can do so once more with GODWINSON, who could still be well treated after a mere 5lb rise for a determined success in the Lincoln back in March. The straight mile at Newcastle should suit him well and he gets the vote ahead of the classy Boiling Point, who has switched to the Karl Burke yard since finishing a respectable fourth in Group 3 company at Goodwood last August. Tribal Chief is another to note if bouncing back to the form of his penultimate second at Newmarket in April.

ATR VERDICT: Four of SNOW BERRY's eight career wins have come at this venue (one over C&D), and a 3lb rise for the latest those which came a fortnight ago, could prove lenient. Michael Appleby's mare is narrowly preferred to Thunderous Love, who has remained in good form since scoring over track and trip in April. Forteleza and Kiss Me My Love are entitled to be thereabouts as well.

ATR VERDICT: This may be QAZAQ's first start on turf, but he is bred to relish quick ground and the son of Kingman should enjoy dropping back to 7f after a relatively disappointing effort over further at Newcastle when last seen in January. The four-year-old still has plenty of potential from a mark of 92, and he is preferred to the highly consistent Two Tribes, and Cogitate, who took a decent step forward when scoring over 1m at Salisbury last month off 6lb lower. Physique is another with claims if bouncing back to the form of his penultimate second on the Rowley Mile behind the subsequent winner of the Kensington Palace.

ATR VERDICT: IBN ALTHEEB outran his odds to finish a highly promising second on debut over slightly further at Beverley. With normal improvement expected on the back of that, he may be able to go one better with proven stamina a major plus. Runner-up on each of her three starts over 5f, Homestrait has been nothing but consistent and stepping up in trip may be just what is needed for this daughter of Coulsty. Zoumluzzi improved from first to second start when third at York and he is another one to note.

Declan Carroll's gelding will have no problem with conditions back on the grass, and he could go in again under a 5lb penalty. Back to form with a creditable third over C&D a fortnight ago, Soldiers Design makes plenty of appeal, as does Master Zack, who hit the frame at Doncaster latest.

ATR VERDICT: Sahana put her three maiden/novice starts well behind her when making a winning handicap debut at Yarmouth earlier in the month and she holds an obvious chance. Orange Sky is likely to enter calculations off an opening mark of 80, but the vote goes to SALVE ELECTRA. James Horton's filly accounted for a subsequent winner to get off the mark at Brighton in May and based on that performance, she will prove tough to stop.

ATR VERDICT: KANISHKA may have disappointed when well-fancied at Leicester last time out, but he has strong claims on previous form, including when fourth in the Brocklesby on debut, and the booking of Tom Marquand may prove significant. Narrowly denied on his first go over this trip in a seller at Chester last time out, Ubetterseethis can uphold form with Crystal Aurora (third), who was a length-and-a-half behind, with both expected to be thereabouts again on a return to maiden company.

ATR VERDICT: COSMIC SOUL appeared to be suited by a drop in trip when beaten a neck into second at Redcar last Saturday, and, if finding a little extra, the five-year-old could shed his maiden tag. The booking of Jim Crowley is noteworthy, and he might have too much for Titainium, who could progress upped further in distance having won over 1m2f at Wetherby last time out. Morandi Second arrives on the back of a creditable third at Catterick and he should not be overlooked either.

ATR VERDICT: Dereham outran his odds of 14/1 when taking the silver medal home at Yarmouth in May and is likely to be on the premises in his bid for a third win in this contest. However, BRECCIA was just touched off into second at Bath earlier in the month and is just 1lb higher. With David Probert taking over in the plate, she could be the one to beat. Chillhi sports a first-time visor and is another to watch out for.

ATR VERDICT: Dc Cogent cosily shed his maiden tag over C&D prior to only managing sixth on his first handicap outing at Musselburgh, but he might have more to offer. Even so, ZIGGY'S TRITON looks the way to go. David O'Meara's charge produced the best effort of his career when second at Catterick earlier in the month and, with Tom Marquand booked, he could make a winning handicap debut. Last-time-out Southwell scorer Nordic Games is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: A promising third to a smart sort of Richard Hughes' on debut at Windsor recently, KUNAA may well have gone closer but for a tardy start. This appeals as an ideal opportunity for David Loughnane's charge and she is narrowly preferred to Army Bugler, who had similar difficulties at the beginning of his race at Bath when stumbling leaving the stalls. That did not stop the son of Soldier's Call from finishing an encouraging second and he's noted along with U S S Charleston.

ATR VERDICT: Runner-up to a subsequent winner at Brighton last time out, ANGEL ON HIGH narrowly gets the vote in this trappy contest off a mark 1lb lower than his last success. A respectable fourth on each of her last two starts at Redcar, Ravishing Beauty may need some respite from the handicapper, while similar comments apply to Shaws Phoenix, who wasn't beaten far at Yarmouth latest.
