ATR VERDICT: Individualism commands respect after hinting at a revival with a close second at Beverley last week, while Rhythm Master surely has another race within him and must be taken seriously from a highly competitive mark. However, THE TRICKSTER is far less exposed and with his weight-for-age allowance significantly bolstering his chance, a first handicap success could be within reach for John and Sean Quinn's progressive three-year-old. Castle Stuart also warrants close inspection.

Top Tip: THE TRICKSTER (5)

ATR VERDICT: My Boy Harry put things together nicely when he landed one of these series qualifiers here last week and is an attractive proposition in his bid for back-to-back wins. However, the runner-up DESERT BEAUTY has a 6lb pull in the weights and could turn the form around if first-time blinkers draw some improvement. Roman Spring and the unexposed Ejuna are other notable options as they tackle a classified stakes for the first time.

ATR VERDICT: KEEP ME STABLE gained a fifth career success here on her latest start, having knocked on the door in recent months, and Linda Perratt's mare has every chance of following up on her return to 7f. Purple Martini got the better of the selection over C&D in May and wasn't at all disgraced at Carlisle when third last time. She enters the reckoning along with The Gay Blade.

ATR VERDICT: BUY THE DIP gained compensation for a couple of second-placed finishes over C&D when justifying favouritism in a 7f event at Lingfield 10 days ago. With little to fear back over a mile, a 2lb higher mark looks manageable. Fellow last-time-out scorer H Key Lails is a solid pace angle and commands respect, despite being winless from 12 previous attempts on turf. Uncle Dick took this prize 12 months ago and again rates a player off 4lb higher.

ATR VERDICT: This appears to be a golden opportunity for the consistent SIBYL CHARM to get her head back in front. The daughter of Charm Spirit has held her form well in recent months and boasts strong credentials in a race lacking any kind of depth on paper. Jewel Maker's recent fifth at Redcar entitles him to be in the mix, while a falling handicap mark might aid the cause of Detective.

ATR VERDICT: WARM GLOW caught the eye making up plenty of ground at Bath, only to run out of steam in the closing stages. The daughter of Oasis Dream has scope for further improvement off her current mark and looks worth another chance. Paragon also remains unexposed and first-time blinkers help his cause, while Tiempo Alegre placed at Redcar last time, despite a tardy start, and she has a shout.

ATR VERDICT: Yaaser has performed with credit since winning at Ayr in April, although he does look in the grip of the handicapper at present. The latter comment also applies to Vince Le Prince, who finished runner-up over C&D on his penultimate start when beaten by FLETCHERS DREAM. Fitted with a visor for the first time, Alan Brown's inmate returned the shock winner on that occasion but there was no fluke about it, having won off a higher mark last term, and another bold bid is anticipated.

He looks one to keep on the right side of in his current frame of mind and is taken to defy a penalty. Night Bear scored at the track last summer and finished an encouraging third back here in May, while Chourmo drops in class with a shout.

ATR VERDICT: SKI ANGEL has eased in the weights having won off a 5lb higher mark here last term. She showed signs of a resurgence when runner-up at the track last time, in a sprint that has worked out really well, and the daughter of Harry Angel is taken to go one better. Wee Mary went close to opening her account at Doncaster recently and makes more appeal than Mrs Bagerran, who has been raised 6lb for winning at Ripon.

ATR VERDICT: CALLOUT struggled on the soft going at Lingfield last time, but has to be of interest back on his favoured ground. Jack Morland's charge won nicely over C&D in May, when accounting for the progressive Mr Ubiquitous, and that form gives him the beating of recent Salisbury third Play Me. The latter could still feature, although Ruling Master may emerge as a bigger threat based on last month's neck defeat at the track.

ATR VERDICT: Aspire Tower held every chance when unseating his rider at the last on his first start for new connections in a hurdle race at Clairefontaine. He commands respect given his class edge over the opposition, but a pair of progressive chasers stand in his way in the shape of Schmilsson and FINEST VIEW. Squire Danagher took a decent step forward when filling the runner-up spot at Worcester and this sharper track may play to his strengths. ATR VERDICT: Hill Station has gone close on his most recent efforts at Newton Abbot and he commands plenty of respect off a 4lb higher mark, while Star Legend's fine form under both codes warrants him a place on the shortlist. The vote, though, goes to REALISTIC OPTIMISM, who produced a better effort after wind surgery when runner-up at Warwick. With the likelihood of more to come, the eight-year-old is worth chancing.

ATR VERDICT: The winner of three of his last four starts, DOC MCCOY posted arguably his best effort so far when upped in trip at Fontwell last time. There looks plenty more to come and with a conditional's allowance easing a 12lb hike, Jamie Snowden's progressive hurdler is worth sticking with. Runner-up at Newton Abbot, Teorie keeps threatening to land a handicap and the five-year-old has scope for further improvement. Getalead will appreciate this extra test of stamina and could be in the mix.
