ATR VERDICT: This could be a match between standard setter If I Could Dream and SECRET ECHO, with marginal preference for the latter. A promising third at York on debut, it was disappointing that she couldn't build on it when a beaten favourite at Thirsk. However, on paper, it was no penalty kick and this would appear to be her best opportunity yet. Too Darn Hot filly Love Love Love is related to a trio of useful types and market support would be noteworthy ahead of her racecourse bow.

Top Tip: SECRET ECHO (5)

Watch out for: IF I COULD DREAM (2)

ATR VERDICT: HOWTH is likely to prove popular with his three-out-of-four win record over hurdles, with the latest coming in a C&D handicap when he had 17 lengths to spare over his nearest rival. He does have to give away 12lb or more now back in novice company, but is difficult to oppose. Saratoga Lass struck on her second start for Fergal O'Brien after arriving from Ireland and she may have more to offer. Absolut Grey is a tentative pick for third.

Top Tip: HOWTH (1)

Watch out for: SARATOGA LASS (4)

ATR VERDICT: RED LETTER has shown smart ability and might reverse June form with Barnavara. Although only seventh in the 1000 Guineas at Newmarket, she bounced back with a useful effort behind Barnavara at Navan and showed an ability to handle soft ground when scoring at Killarney last month, where she also settled better. She is 3lb better off with Barnavara and although that rival won her maiden on soft, she would prefer good ground. Snellen's connections will certainly have an eye on the weather charts because any softening of the ground would scupper her chances. Azada has cheekpieces applied and has recent form in similar races.

Top Tip: RED LETTER (6)

Watch out for: BARNAVARA (3)

ATR VERDICT: MELVIN UDALL outran odds of 80/1 when a length-and-a-half fourth at the Curragh in June and has now joined the Ed Walker string. He ran on well over a furlong shorter and looks all set for a big effort here. Symphony Of Joy has a similar profile after his two-length Leicester fourth and he can compete with High On Hope, who may just have the edge in the race for second place.

Top Tip: MELVIN UDALL (4)

Watch out for: HIGH ON HOPE (2)
