ATR VERDICT: FAT HARRY is turned out quickly under a penalty following his chase debut success at Sedgefield last week. He's clearly appreciated the switch to fencing and there could be plenty more improvement to come, so a 7lb penalty might not be enough to stop him from going in again. Couldbeaweapon has won two of his last three starts and is of clear interest, while Ayr scorer Too Cool Forshrul is another to bear in mind.

Top Tip: FAT HARRY (7)

ATR VERDICT: Kayce Dutton showed improvement in first-time cheekpieces to score at Market Rasen and is expected to mount a bold bid on his return. Ali Star Bert competes off a workable rating and is respected, but GOLAN LOOP might be the one. Warren Greatrex's five-year-old bolted up over the smaller obstacles at Ffos Las in May and, now tackling fences for the first time, a mark of 112 may prove to be lenient.

Top Tip: GOLAN LOOP (1)

ATR VERDICT: Kap Vert finished eight lengths clear of the third when second at Fontwell last month and is one to keep a close eye on. However, LUCKY MANIFEST made the perfect start for the Tom Lacey yard when readily taking care of his nearest rival by just under five lengths at Kelso, and is now 9lb higher. With the potential of more to come on just his second start in a handicap, he looks the way to go. Bective Abbey and El Capitaine are others to consider.

ATR VERDICT: ADMIRAL STEWART produced some fair form over hurdles, only finding subsequent Grade 2 winner Jet To Vegas too good in January, and he could prove even better over fences. The six-year-old was gifted a walkover at Sandown last weekend and an opening rating of 122 might underestimate his ability. Daytime Dreaming was last seen scoring over the smaller obstacles at this venue last December and is of interest on his handicap/chase debut. As The Fella Says is another to note.

Top Tip: ADMIRAL STEWART (1)

Watch out for: DAYTIME DREAMING (2)

ATR VERDICT: LORD BADDESLEY produced a brilliant performance on his return to action at Newbury last week and, if in the same sort of form, he can defy his penalty to record a quick double. Gunsight Ridge finished a respectable fourth over 2m at Aintree in April and remains on a workable mark, so he has to be of interest for the in-form Olly Murphy team. Fugitif is a two-time course winner who also has a chance.

Top Tip: LORD BADDESLEY (8)

ATR VERDICT: TEDWIN HILLS made every yard of the running to complete a double at Warwick recently and, despite his 7lb penalty for that success, the son of Getaway might be up to the task. Yealand is a C&D winner who was last seen filling the runner-up spot at Bangor and could have a say, while last-time-out Kelso scorer Chapel Green holds an obvious chance.

ATR VERDICT: The horse who beat VANGO CAN GO in an Irish point-to-point earlier in the year ended up with Nicky Henderson and ran a race full of promise on his Rules bow in a novice hurdle at Ascot. That form could be quite strong and this four-year-old should be ready to roll given his in-form connections. Gidge finished second to a nice type at Uttoxeter and is respected getting weight from the boys, while My Mate Aj is a newcomer to consider.

ATR VERDICT: Queens Venture struck by a short head in a class 2 handicap at Newton Abbot in August and has since switched to the Dean Summersby yard, so she warrants a market check. However, DO NO WRONG went in by three lengths over C&D last month and is just 5lb higher. With a similar performance, the son of Sageburg could prove hard to beat. Of the remainder, You Some Girl makes the most appeal.

Top Tip: DO NO WRONG (3)
