ATR VERDICT: THE REVEREND is a smart recruit from the Flat and represents powerful connections. The Lope De Vega gelding won four times for William Haggas on varying ground conditions and was last seen scoring over 1m6f at Haydock in September off a mark of 98. Dawn Coming was placed in a Curragh maiden for Jim Bolger and has made the frame on both starts over hurdles since joining Charles Byrnes including when third behind Bertutea at Limerick last week. Speculateur won a point-to-point in fine style last spring and now switches to hurdles after finishing fourth on his debut under Rules in a Punchestown bumper.

ATR VERDICT: It was an inspired performance from Keep Running when bolting up by 18 lengths over track and trip last time and the eight-year-old has lots in his favour, so he has to be respected. However, an 11lb hike makes life tougher and that might open the door for SIAM PARK. Joe Tizzard's charge regained the winning thread in ready fashion at Plumpton in November, which made it four wins from six chase starts, and he hasn't reached his ceiling yet. Vanderpoel completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: SPINOLA BAY hails from a yard in great form and gets the vote to complete a hat-trick. The selection overcame a mistake at the last when successful at Navan and was again prominent throughout when landing a very competitive 18-runner handicap at the Leopardstown Christmas meeting with Tatateo back in mid-division. Youlita justified strong support in a Downpatrick maiden last May and it will be interesting to see how strong he is in the market here on reappearance. Zuzukel was just denied at Punchestown last time and is another to consider along with Youneedabitofluck.

ATR VERDICT: Luttrell Lad came through the field late to score by over eight lengths at Exeter last time. Whether that performance can be backed up is another question, though, so it may pay to side with HENRI THE SECOND. The two-time course winner ran below expectations when third at Doncaster in November, but that effort can be forgiven after being reported to be lame post-race. Now dropped to an appealing mark, he looks the one to side with. Poncho isn't ruled out either.

ATR VERDICT: Having finished runner-up on both starts over hurdles to date, this looks a good opportunity for FILLYOUREYE to register a first success. A former Kilbeggan bumper winner, the Willie Mullins-trained gelding was sent off favourite when taking minor honours at Punchestown last month. Stepping up in trip here should suit the son of Leading Light. Point-to-point winner Rebel Budz went close on his hurdling debut at Thurles in October. The Paul O'Flynn-trained seven-year-old should be capable of building on that effort. Frankie's Freebie is next best.

ATR VERDICT: Jet Plane looked better than ever when carrying top weight to victory at Leicester and a 7lb rise may not prevent another bold bid. However, CAN YOU CALL is weighted to beat the former on their form here in 2024 and arrives fresh from an impressive win at Cheltenham. Evan Williams' charge could prove too strong on this occasion and gets the vote. Triple Trade would prefer softer going, but Minella Trump could shape well on his reappearance.

ATR VERDICT: Recent Limerick scorer COUSIN KATE can follow up for in-form trainer Denis Hogan. Although raised 8lb for that latest success, the daughter of Maxios has most of that burden offset by a very capable claimer. A well-bred five-year-old mare, she has really come into her own in recent times and it would be no surprise to see her continue on an upward curve. Getaway Beo made an impressive racecourse debut when easily winning at Tipperary in October. The Gordon Elliott-trained six-year-old almost certainly failed to give her true running when tailed off in a Grade 3 at Down Royal latest. Cast A Spell also holds claims.

ATR VERDICT: Nurse Susan landed a handicap at Cheltenham in good style last month with Jubilee Alpha back in fifth. The latter reopposes on more favourable terms and Paul Nicholls' charge could well turn the tables, but THAT'LL DO MOSS also makes plenty of appeal. The daughter of Black Sam Bellamy will be sharper for her comeback run at Kempton and, given she was narrowly beaten in a Grade 2 contest over C&D last term, she looks worthy of another chance.
