ATR VERDICT: After losing his unbeaten record at Sandown, SOBER GLORY bounced back to score in fine style over C&D. Likely market rival Kadastral was no match for the son of Mount Nelson off level weights at Chepstow back in November, and a 4lb pull is unlikely to be enough given the rate at which the Hobbs/White gelding is improving. Fantasy World was a useful stayer on the Flat so it'll be interesting to see how he fares now sent hurdling.

Top Tip: SOBER GLORY (1)

Watch out for: KADASTRAL (2)

ATR VERDICT: This is open and a chance can be taken on KAPAL LAYAR. Olly Murphy's charge found real progress at the start of his hurdling career but has struggled since returning in November. However, his seasonal reappearance can be forgiven and he had excuses at Ascot latest. The Milan gelding now sport a first-time tongue-tie/cheekpieces combination having undergone wind surgery last month, whilst he could find progress at this longer trip. A Pai De Nom was far from disgraced in the Lanzarote and must be given the utmost respect, as must Below The Radar. Spare a thought for Crebilly too who, although well below-par of late, has become far too well treated to ignore.

ATR VERDICT: Haiti Couleurs put his Betfair Chase blip behind him to land the Welsh National in fine style and although the gelding will be eyeing loftier targets come the spring, landing this prize would only strengthen his claims. That said, it might pay to side with L'HOMME PRESSE on this occasion. Venetia Williams' veteran rolled back the years to finish an excellent second in the Cotswold and, if able to find that rhythm out in front once again, he might be tough to reel in. Leave Of Absence can chase the pair home ahead of Riskintheground.
