ATR VERDICT: Carry The Flag only found the Coventry winner Great Barrier Reef too good in a Group 3 at the Curragh on his most recent start and his chance is there for all to see. Wesley Ward holds a strong hand with his trio Ez Tina, Fanshell Beach and Through The Years, with preference being for the latter. However, a chance can be taken on FLIGHT SIGNAL, who made a deep impression when drawing clear to score by just over three lengths on his introduction at Bath and, with any amount of improvement to come, he looks the one to side with.

Top Tip: FLIGHT SIGNAL (5)

ATR VERDICT: The unexposed SQUARE NECKER made a winning handicap debut over 1m5f at Hamilton and the son of Zarak may be able to defy a 6lb rise on this occasion. However, Humble Spark was not far behind him in second and Jim Goldie's gelding should not be underestimated following another cracking effort in defeat last time at York. Boatswain showed more when third at Kempton last time, while Pole Star completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: Amiloc won the King Edward VII at last year's meeting and did not stay 1m6f on his return when well beaten in the Yorkshire Cup. He might be worth another chance, but it's hard to ignore the claims of recent Coronation Cup runner-up JAN BRUEGHEL. Aidan O'Brien's dual Group 1 winner won that event 12 months ago and a return to a quicker surface may help him on this occasion. Kalpana has a very good record at this venue, including two Group 1 victories, and hold an obvious chance for the in-form Andrew Balding team.

Top Tip: JAN BRUEGHEL (6)

Watch out for: AMILOC (1)

ATR VERDICT: Lanarra is open to improvement and merits close inspection despite her only previous attempt over 7f being a mediocre display. Conversely, LOPE Y LINDA should have no issues with the trip and shades preference on the balance of form. Undone by racing keenly from a poor draw at Beverley on Tuesday, Tim Easterby's filly looks well placed to quickly bounce back. Trais Fluors and Monhammer complete the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: This race arguably revolves around JOLIESTAR, who is unbeaten in three outings this year and completed a double at the top level at Randwick in April. Chris Waller's mare got the better of Overpass (fourth) in that event and Bjorn Baker's charge advertised that form well when a close third in the King Charles III on Tuesday. Satono Reve only found the mighty Ka Ying Rising too good at Sha Tin in April, so he has to be taken very seriously with Ryan Moore booked. Of the English team, Lake Forest makes the most appeal after bolting up in a Listed event at Haydock on his return last month.

Top Tip: JOLIESTAR (17)
