ATR VERDICT: Jm Jhingree made the most of a drop in the ratings when scoring in a selling handicap at Hamilton 18 days ago and he merits respect off just 2lb higher in the ratings. However, the four-year-old appears to have more on his plate in this contest, with WOOHOO fancied to capitalise. Jim Goldie's mare arrives on the back of good second over C&D and the return of Paul Mulrennan may see her back in the winner's enclosure. King's Crown and Wee Mary are others of interest.

ATR VERDICT: GORE POINT had every chance when left in front at Stratford on his penultimate start but there was no doubting his superiority when running out a comfortable winner over C&D 10 days ago. A 6lb rise doesn't appear likely to be an inconvenience for Anthony Honeyball's gelding, who can prove too strong for recent Worcester runner-up Miss Denver. Manyana Blue is an interesting recruit to chasing with the weight-for-age allowance.

ATR VERDICT: A convincing winner on his most recent start over track and trip, WHITE LADDER could be set to follow up. John Ryan's inmate scored with enough to hand to suggest that he can defy a 6lb penalty and there should be more to come. Taygar arrives on the back of a string of creditable efforts in defeat and she's feared most, ahead of Water Of Leith.

ATR VERDICT: God Of Fire didn't quite build on his first run over hurdles when weakening into fourth at Hereford and clearly has had his issues since, with this being his first appearance since April 2025. Although he sets the standard over timber, a chance is taken with JASPER GLORY. Third in his sole point-to-point outing in April, he has since joined Dan Skelton and may have a decent opportunity to make a winning start under Rules. Maria Mes is preferred over Little Twig of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: The majority of these have something to prove at present, so Runninsonofagun is likely to prove popular given he was beaten under two lengths on his last two outings at Carlisle. It would come as no surprise if the four-year-old was to secure a belated second career victory, but it could be worth chancing BRAES OF DOUNE. Jim Goldie's veteran posted several creditable efforts in defeat off higher marks last season and his sixth-placed reappearance at Ayr should have blown away any cobwebs. Whiskey Pete is worth a second look in first-time cheekpieces.

ATR VERDICT: Saucats arrives following a recent C&D success and is likely to enter calculations after going up 3lb. The veteran Coup De Gold won here over shorter last month and cannot be discounted once again, but a chance is taken with RAFFLES NOBU. Nick Scholfield's gelding was runner-up to a subsequent winner at Stratford last time and is capable of going one better.

ATR VERDICT: War Memorial arrives having won two of his last four starts, including the most recent of those at Catterick, and he is capable of being in the mix. However, the vote goes to recent C&D winner JKR COBBLER. The seven-year-old had a few of these in behind when building on a string of consistent efforts here last Sunday and a 4lb penalty may not be enough to stop him. The reopposing Ramon Di Loria (third), Monhammer (fourth) and Penny Mountain (fifth) appeal most of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: ELLERTON switches to fences for this assignment and must have a great chance judged on recent form over timber at this venue. A win and second-placed effort here in May suggests he's on good terms with himself and he's taken to edge out Limerick Leader, who doesn't know how to run badly and won here last summer. The Gypsy Davey and It's A Breeze can fight it out for third.

ATR VERDICT: Dropping in grade should help PEARL EYE, who can take full advantage on this occasion. A winner at Hamilton before finishing third in a competitive York handicap, he was a beaten favourite back on the Knavesmire last time and it would be no surprise to see him bounce back. Pol Roger has been knocking on the door recently and is likely to go well, while Spiritoftheblues is also interesting.
