ATR VERDICT: DIVINE WHISPER heads the shortlist after a third to Wild Blossom at Glorious Goodwood. Slowly away that day, the form looks good with the second running well in the Flying Childers, and she has more room for improvement than most. Agamemnon has held his own in better company and is the best horse here on ratings, while Angels Passing couldn't get involved in the Lowther and will be happier in this sort of company.

ATR VERDICT: TRUE SOVEREIGN is one of three Aidan O'Brien entries, but as a son of Gun Runner out of a sister of 1000 Guineas winner Winter his pedigree intrigues and it will be interesting to see where he sits in the pre-race market. Stablemate Knight's Honour cost 475,000gns as a yearling and as a son of Camelot he is unlikely to lack talent, while Iveagh House is the third of the Ballydoyle trio and has experience on his side after finishing fourth to the well-touted Monogram at the Curragh. The stable may have this between them, with Island Bloom perhaps best of the rest.

ATR VERDICT: New Yorker has been gelded since finishing last of 21 in the Norfolk Stakes at Royal Ascot in June, and although his Dundalk maiden win leaves him with something to find, a mark of 84 less Jack Cleary's 5lb claim may see him get into the mix. Pink Venom goes from strength to strength winning at Fairyhouse and Cork in September, but the Soldier's Call filly has been upped 10lb for her last success which may stop her landing the hat-trick. A chance is taken on I READY. His last run at Navan can be ignored as he lost a shoe and injured himself at the start, and is better judged on his Curragh second when trying gallantly to give 16lb to winner Howlin Wolf.

ATR VERDICT: Desert Castle created a big impression when readily taking the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster and it would be no surprise to see him play a leading role once again. That said, he takes on a stronger field here and marginal preference is for DARKNESS FALLS. The son of Camelot bolted up in a Curragh maiden and was equally impressive when taking the Group 1 Golden Fleece at Leopardstown. This drop in trip is a slight concern, but the progressive colt may well be up to the challenge. Coventry winner Great Barrier Reef lost his unbeaten record when narrowly denied last time, but it is far too soon to be writing him off.

9 (4)		28-3051	SAINT AGATHA 11 D b f St Mark's Basilica - Scream Blue Murder	3 9 - 1	Ben Coen J A Stack	84

ATR VERDICT: TWO STARS hasn't been seen since last season's Group 1 Flying Five at the Curragh, but this is more his level having won a Listed sprint over the minimum trip here in April 2025 and it might be worth chancing the fitness of Fozzy Stack's charge. Bamako Beach has been gelded since last in action and the three-year-old drops in distance with a shout. Thunderbear can't be ruled out for Stephen Thorne having switched yards since winning last year's renewal.

Top Tip: TWO STARS (4)

Watch out for: BAMAKO BEACH (5)
