ATR VERDICT: This looks like a nice starting point over fences for TORPILLE DAGROSTIS. The mare beat a decent sort in Alliteration when winning her maiden hurdle at Leopardstown in March before finding life tougher in Listed company at Haydock the following month. As a former point-to-point second this was always likely to be her game. Rattledelatch looks a better performer over fences than hurdles and won well at Tramore last month. He's a big player, along with Trasna Na Pairce.

ATR VERDICT: Six-time course winner Hello Judge excels here and is an attractive proposition on that basis, while Dubai Days is a previous C&D winner who would be dangerous to rule out now he is back on his last winning mark. Ready preference, however, is for PARISENCORE after he posted a revitalised effort to score in first-time cheekpieces at Wetherby last month. A 4lb rise should be highly manageable if the headgear has the same impact this time around.

ATR VERDICT: EASTERN FIRE still held every chance when coming to grief at the last on his hurdling debut at Perth and, as long as that fall hasn't left a mark, Dan Skelton's Fakenham bumper scorer ought to take plenty of beating in a race like this. Oykel Bridge shaped with promise in a couple of bumpers before a lacklustre effort at Hereford and he's noted on his jumping introduction, along with Wallquatari.

ATR VERDICT: COEXIST ran a nice race in a Curragh maiden last month and is sure to be well schooled for his jumps debut. With that in mind, he tops the shortlist for this open event. Blissful Bonita won a Flat handicap over 2m at Thurles last month and looks like another obvious contender. Borora Aura made a bold bid from the front when third on her hurdling debut at Galway a fortnight ago and is another that has to be on the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: Lord Of Cheshire hasn't been seen since a taking success at Kempton in April 2025 and although he's entitled to need this first run back, the nine-year-old is still interesting and a market check is advised. Major Fortune is likely to have come forward for his reappearance at Perth, but SHELDON is a course scorer and the consistent veteran edges the vote on ground which suits him.

ATR VERDICT: Having justified the position of the 1/14 favourite and winning by 38 lengths over 2m1f here when last seen, it is hard to ignore the claims of the returning and as yet unbeaten CRISTAL D'ESTRUVAL. That bloodless success was preceded by a maiden hurdle success at Warwick on his Rules debut last November, which cemented the promise of his game win in a point-to-point the previous spring. With that in mind, larger obstacles should suit the Harry Derham-trained gelding and he may be too progressive for Be Aware and All The Glory.

ATR VERDICT: IT'S ONLY A GAME has been highly tried in bumpers and could take a bit of beating on his hurdling debut. He was a comfortable winner of a bumper at this track last year and his subsequent fourth in a Grade 2 at Leopardstown's Dublin Racing Festival was a notable effort. Bombay Pat's third in a Ballycrystal point-to-point can be upgraded as the winner has gone on to land a novices' hurdle at Fontwell by a wide margin. Gordon Elliott takes the wraps off Werner, who should be given a market check.

ATR VERDICT: LUNE BRILLANTE had plenty in hand when making a winning debut over hurdles at Worcester last month and Dan Skelton's mare is hard to oppose on the back of that performance. That said, Locker Boum also arrives on the back of a success and could give the selection plenty to think about if building on that effort. Others to note are Padre Arthur and Electric City.

ATR VERDICT: BORN DE CERES is progressing with racing and receives a nice bit of weight from most of his rivals on handicap debut. The long-absent Belle The Tigress was last seen finishing mid-division in a valuable mares' handicap hurdle at the Galway Festival in 2025 and should not be underestimated. Inver Bay is in rude health after victories at Roscommon (over hurdles and on the Flat) and has to be respected up in class.

ATR VERDICT: DREAM SHADOW struggled against a high-class prospect in a beginners chase at Perth last time but she looks to be well handicapped based on the pick of her hurdles form. That includes a Listed success at Haydock in April and more can be expected here. Service Minimum cannot be ruled out given the yard she hails from, while Bobbi's Beauty is the pick of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: HARMONY HEIGHTS was progressing nicely when landing the spoils at Chepstow 212 days ago and may be able to follow up on her return. Although a drop in distance isn't ideal for the seven-year-old, an uphill finish will help. Oh Clare did little wrong during her last campaign and an official mark of 109 looks workable on her handicap bow. The O'Neills' mare is feared most, ahead of dual course winner Disco Annie.

ATR VERDICT: Henry de Bromhead's BRICKFIELD BELLE was collared in the closing stages at Limerick but could gain compensation. She was well clear of the remainder and ought to progress from that effort. Her bumper form was notably strong as she cruised home by 15 lengths at Galway in September. Birdie Conway was a creditable sixth in the valuable Goffs Bumper at the Punchestown Festival and is interesting on her hurdling bow. There should be more to come from Brickfield Belle's stablemate Viva Laa Vida as well.

ATR VERDICT: An easy winner of her sole point-to-point, Lutece Borget is one of the more intriguing Rules Debutants. Donald McCain's mare must be monitored in the market, but LADY JETFIRE is a shade more appealing on paper. The No Risk At All mare also scored between the flags and her stable's red-hot form at present could prove crucial. Fellow newcomers Who's That Lady and Belle Noire are others to note for their respected yards.

ATR VERDICT: Many will fancy Count Adhemar to pick up from where he left off at Haydock in the spring and another bold showing looks assured, although slight preference is for APOLLON FORLONGE. He showed that he possesses plenty of ability over hurdles last season and is the one with the most potential now stepping up in trip on his chase bow. Can't Resist It is noted as well.
